ABSTRACT

According to the census of 2011, women constitute 48.2% of the total population of India. We know that, the goals of human development are closely related with the empowerment of women in our country. For sustainable development of the Indian economy, women empowerments are highly prioritized. Women constitute a valuable human resource of any country in the world. Women empowerment has been recognized as the central issue since independence. Now in 21st century women empowerment becomes a global issue. Though many women of our country are empowering themselves, but still there are some Muslim women of our country who remain backward in education and development. Muslim women always remained socially and economically backward in our country. Their low participation in education becomes a roadblock in the path of achieving the goal of universal education. Indian Muslims women are far behind in achieving the literacy status because of their poor economic conditions and superstition. The Constitution of India grants the right to Equality and Right to Freedom of Religion and Protection of Interests of Minorities in regard to educational right. Besides providing all the facility, Muslim girls and women are still lagging behind in the entire sphere and are deprived of all the opportunities especially in the state West Bengal. Empowerment of Muslim women is one of the pivotal issue while addressing Muslim women’s right and development. This paper highlights the educational development and empowerment of Muslim women in West Bengal with special reference to Murshidabad district.

INTRODUCTION

“I measure the progress of a community by the degree of progress which women have achieved”

- Dr. B R Ambedkar

The word ‘women’ have different forms and roles in our society. Women are the producer of a new generation and also a transformer of the vast society. So, in 21st century women empowerment becomes a great challenge, which aims at increasing women’s self-reliance, self-confidence and internal strength to determine their own choice in their life. Education is one of the most important means of empowering women by giving them proper knowledge, skills and self confidence. From years Muslim women are being exploited in all sphere of life. So, it’s the duty of a nation to make the Muslim women educationally empowered.
REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

Review of related literature in the area of enquiry is a crucial component of the research process. A review of related literature and previous researches in the present study is attempted below:

Kumar, S. S. and Palanisamy, M. (2013), conducted a study on, “Impact of Education on Women Empowerment in India”. Figure 3: Clearly Indicates the Level of Empowerment among Muslim Women in Murshidabad District of West Bengal

Interpretation

To estimate the level of empowerment among Muslim women in the study area, an empowerment scale was used. Based on the number of items and the rating score, projected value of empowerment was estimated. The scale reveals that the person who has obtained the score as per category mentioned in the scale to be taken as his degree of empowerment. Accordingly empowerment in four categories of 400 Muslim women of Murshidabad district was estimated.

Result reveals that, the average rate of social empowerment of Muslim women in the study area is not satisfactory. They belong to low empowered category with reference to social areas. But the Muslim women are economically empowered. In case of educational empowerment, they secure maximum score. However, the Muslim women in the district of Murshidabad are not highly empowered about education. Muslim women in the study area are least interested about political activities.
FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

Findings Pertaining to Objective 1

The levels of education of Muslim women selected for the study have been estimated in four categories, i.e. illiterate, primary, secondary and higher education level. Most of the selected women belong to primary education level, but it is interesting to note that only 2.75% Muslim women in Murshidabad district belong to illiterate category. Significant advancement has been found in the trends of education levels.

Findings Pertaining to Objective 2

The survey on Muslim women in the study area concludes that, the occupation of most of the Muslim women is household activities. More than 60% Muslim women working as housewives, where as very less percentage of women have active participation in political activities. Less than 20% Muslim women of Murshidabad district are engaged in economical activities and services.

Findings Pertaining to Objective 3

The objective concludes that, the average rate of social empowerment of Muslim women in the study area is not satisfactory. They belong to low empowered category with reference to social areas. However the Muslim women of Murshidabad district are economically empowered. They are not highly empowered in education. Another issue has comes out i.e., the Muslim women are least interested about political activities as they are not properly empowered in political issues.

From the discussion we can conclude that, education is very much essential for empowering Muslim women in our society. Muslim women empowerment is a powerful tool for the change of any society. Muslim women empowerment is an initiative to develop our nation. The researcher observed in the study area that the Muslim women are least interested about political activities as they are not properly empowered in political issues. So, it is the duty of the state and country to give proper education toward politics. The Government of India thus came up in the new millennium by declaring the year 2001 as, ‘Women Empowerment Year’ focus on making gender equality in our country.
