

Russian cosmism ideas further work

Evdokiya Luchezarova

Head office of NNOY 'Irl'em', Founder of the knowledge about Rhythmotime

125040, 5th Street of Yamskoe pole, 9, Moscow, Russia

Phone: 495 87 99, 812 309 05 58, 812 309 34 79 (twenty four hour)

Email: office@irlem.ru

Website: www.irlem.ru

About the boundless Universe

When a person loses the connection with the Sun and the Moon, he loses both his/her spiritual and soul beginning and, even worse, he/she loses space and cosmological beginning.

There is the well-known free will rule which says that until nothing threatens the Geno species and genotype as a whole with destruction – Space would not interfere.

The first rule of the Universe is "help everyone you can help, unless it forces you down from your own way". It is very important to maintain the balance and have a sense of proportion: when you give out everything that belongs to you and leave nothing for yourself, nobody needs you.

When people get in trouble in their personal life they tend to address the stars.

The human reason directly depends on stars and as soon as a human being starts thinking of eternity, stars move towards him.

Before you learn about eternity you need to realize what "eternity" looks like: it is like something that does not have any end or beginning.

At present, a great process of era and race change is taking place. According to the race plan, the present mankind is apparently changing and being gradually replaced.

While keeping the existing fibrous casing the inner characteristics of a person are being gradually changed.

A person is paying more and more attention to the energy and information spheres and finally starts orienting himself to the Milky Way road.

Nowadays, the vast majority of the evolving consciousness is directed to the Space beginning and consciousness – this is true for the simplest cells of a body, as well as for the plant leaves and microcells.

It is getting more and more obvious that a human being cycle depends on the cycles of the planets, the Sun and the stars.

It is true to say that any human being consists of stars and vice versa a star consists of human beings. It is also true that the Earth consists of human beings and human beings consist of the Earth.

The world, developed by the principle reason exists in its originality and when we come to it, very often we would love to change it.

In reality we can change only our attitude to it or we can change ourselves or we can change the same as us human beings.